

Over 110 Arkansas Businesses Support Energy and Climate Change Legislation

American Businesses for Clean Energy (ABCE) has identified more than 6,000 companies throughout the United States that support clean energy and climate legislation through organizations and initiatives including: (1) We Can Lead; (2) Business for Innovative Climate and Energy Policy (BICEP); (3) the U.S. Climate Action Partnership (USCAP); (4) Signatories to the American Leadership Ad (Leadership Ad); (5) Pew's Business Environmental Leadership

Council (BELC); (6) The Clean Energy Group's Clean Air Policy Initiative (CAPI); and (7) Signatories to two open letters to the U.S. Senate and of course those companies listed with ABCE.

- More than 6,000 companies nationwide support energy and climate legislation
- These companies:
 - employ an estimated 3.5 million U.S. workers
 - have market capitalization exceeding $3.8 trillion
 - generated more than $3.5 trillion in revenue in 2009
 - include 21 Fortune 100 companies and 49 Fortune 500 companies

"The time to enact clean energy and climate legislation is now. The U.S. Senate is faced with the decision of whether our country is going to lead, or lag behind, in the global clean energy economy."

-- Eddy Moore
Arkansas Business Leaders for a
Clean Energy Economy

In Arkansas, 113 companies with over 17,489 employees support clean energy and climate legislation.

Sampling of companies calling for energy and climate legislation with operations in Arkansas:

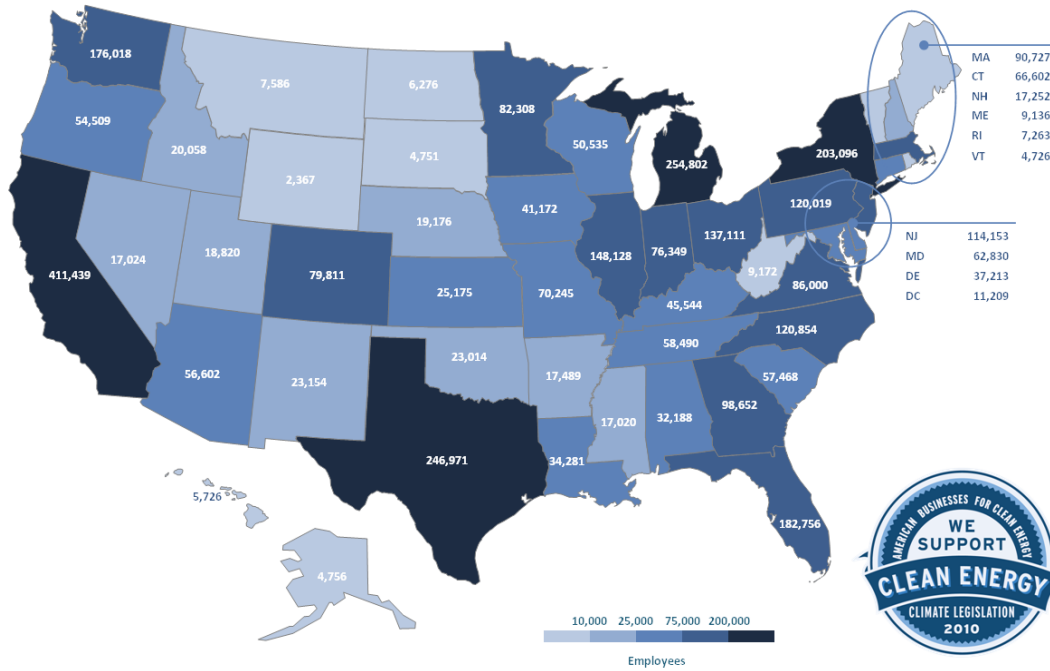

- Bank of America
- Weyerhaeuser
- Pepsico
- Target
- Best Buy
- GE (General Electric)
- Gap Inc.
- Energy
- Lockheed Martin
- United Technologies

Nationwide, ABCE has identified over 6,000 companies representing over 3.5 million employees supporting clean energy and climate legislation.

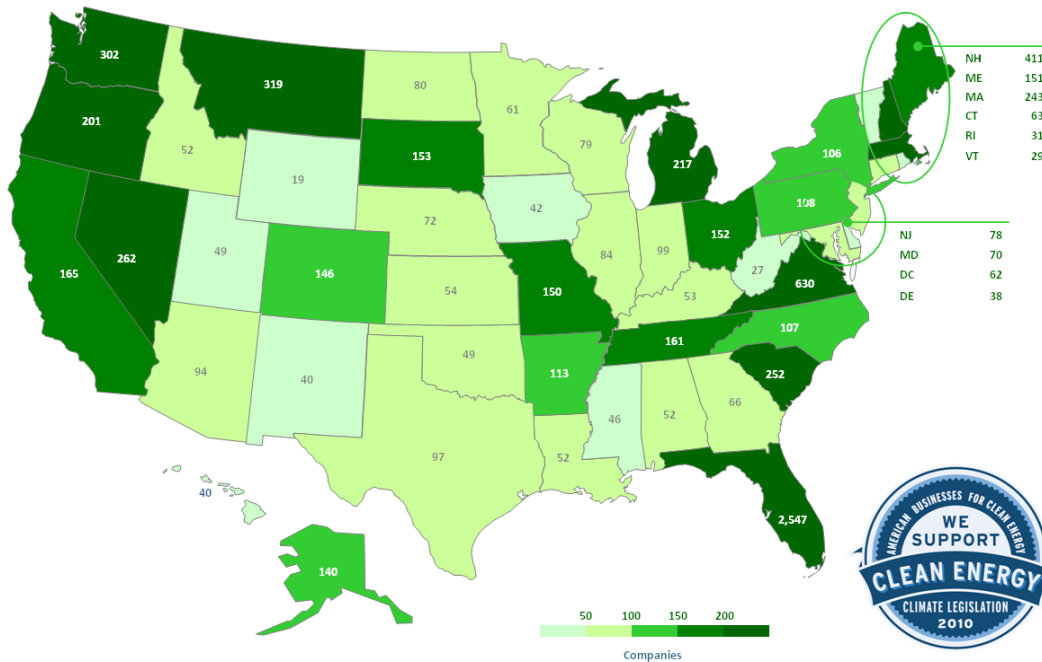

Business Support for Energy and Climate Change Legislation by the Numbers

Estimated employee counts of companies calling on Congress to enact energy and climate legislation

Business Support for Energy and Climate Change Legislation by the Numbers

Number of companies by state calling on Congress to enact energy and climate legislation

For more information, please visit www.abce.us