

Over 240 Massachusetts Businesses Support Energy and Climate Change Legislation

American Businesses for Clean Energy (ABCE) has identified more than 6,000 companies throughout the United States that support clean energy and climate legislation through organizations and initiatives including: (1) We Can Lead; (2) Business for Innovative Climate and Energy Policy (BICEP); (3) the U.S. Climate Action Partnership (USCAP); (4) Signatories to the American Leadership Ad (Leadership Ad); (5) Pew's Business Environmental Leadership Council (BELC); (6) The Clean Energy Group's Clean Air Policy Initiative (CAPI); and (7) Signatories to two open letters to the U.S. Senate and of course those companies listed with ABCE.

- More than 6,000 companies nationwide support energy and climate legislation
- These companies:
 - employ an estimated 3.5 million U.S. workers
 - have market capitalization exceeding $3.8 trillion
 - generated more than $3.5 trillion in revenue in 2009
 - include 21 Fortune 100 companies and 49 Fortune 500 companies

"The US Senate has the opportunity to enact clean energy and climate legislation that will unleash American innovation and create new jobs -- ensuring a cleaner, stronger and more prosperous future for us all. Massachusetts business leaders are ready to help lead this new clean energy economy."

-- Bill Davis, President and CEO
Ze-gen, Inc.

In Massachusetts, 243 companies with over 90.727 employees support clean energy and climate legislation.

Sampling of companies calling for energy and climate legislation with operations in Massachusetts:

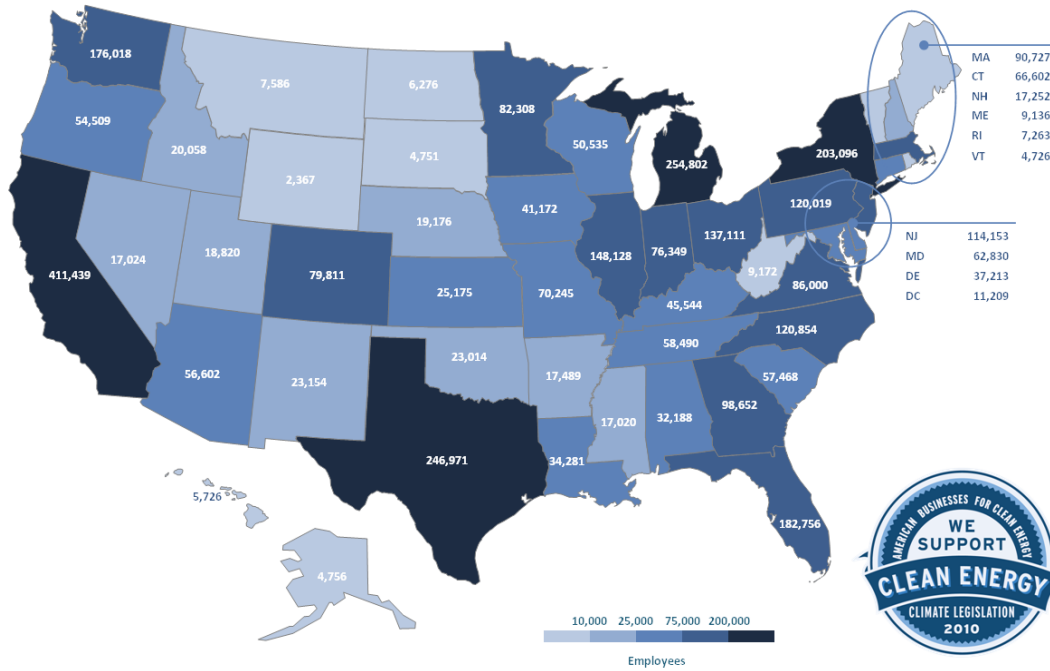

- Bank of America
- GE (General Electric)
- HP (Hewlett-Packard)
- Target
- Gap Inc.
- EMC Corporation (EMC2)
- IBM
- Best Buy
- National Grid
- Starbucks

Nationwide, ABCE has identified over 6,000 companies representing over 3.5 million employees supporting clean energy and climate legislation.

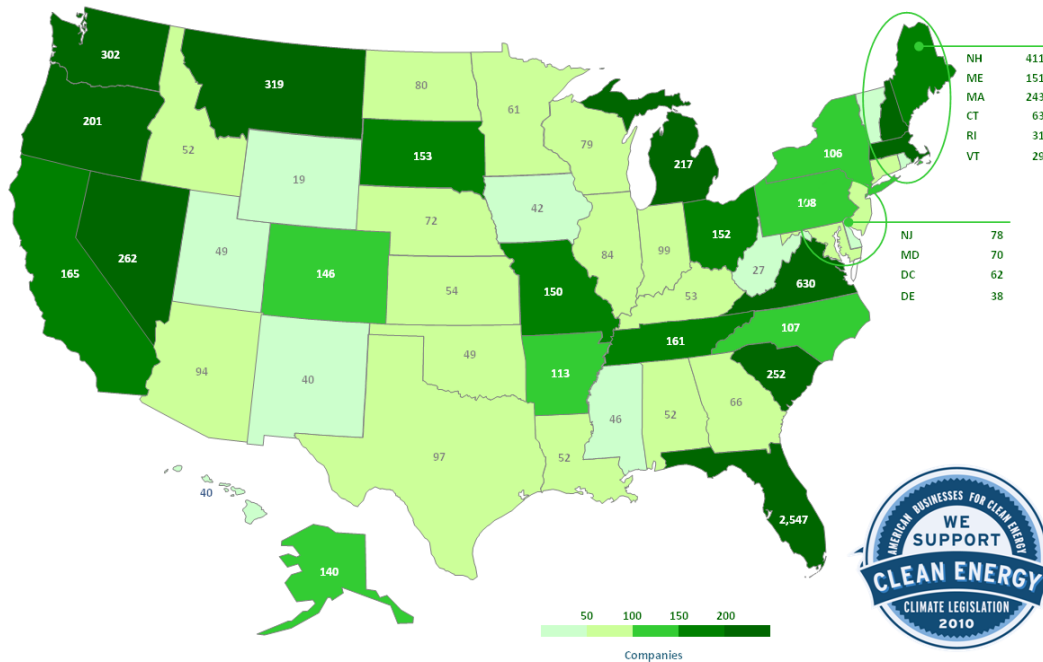

Business Support for Energy and Climate Change Legislation by the Numbers

Estimated employee counts of companies calling on Congress to enact energy and climate legislation

Business Support for Energy and Climate Change Legislation by the Numbers

Number of companies by state calling on Congress to enact energy and climate legislation

For more information, please visit www.abce.us